

Sukhwant Jhaj
University Studies

University Studies Capstone Program

The University Studies Capstone Program is an interdisciplinary community-based general education course requirement that is taken at the senior level of the student's education. Since 1996, there have been more than 2500 individual courses providing over 30,000 students an opportunity to improve their ability in effective communication, critical thinking, working in a diverse society and acting in socially responsible ways by working with community partners on projects.