Therapy with Adoptive and Foster Families

PSU's Therapy with Adoptive and Foster Families certificate program provides post-graduate training in specialized theories and interventions for treating thousands of traumatized children from Oregon's child welfare system. Since 2002, this unique partnership between PSU, Department of Human Services and Oregon Post Adoption Resource Center engages therapists, child welfare professionals, and families by providing this critical community service to Oregon's most vulnerable children. This award will be used to increase the number of adoption-competent therapists.
