

Name: Joseph Maser
Title: Assistant Professor
Campus Address: 218 Science Building 2
Campus Phone: 503-725-8042
Email: maserj@pdx.edu

Education: Ph.D. Biology, Indiana University
B.S. Botany, Penn State University
B.S. Forestry, Penn State University

Major Fields:

Wetland Ecology, Efficacy of Wetland Mitigation

Courses:

Environmental Regulations/Policy, Wetland Ecology and Regulations, Environmental Impact Assessment, Wetland Plants of the Pacific Northwest, Environmental Sustainability, Natural Science Inquiry, Plant Communities of the Columbia River Basin

Recent Publications:

Rule, G. and J. Maser. 2002. Lower Columbia - Clatskanie River Watershed Assessment. Submitted to Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board.

Maser, Joseph. 2001. "Collaborative Development and Benefits of a Science Inquiry Service-Learning Course." Metropolitan Universities, 12 (4): 107-15.

Johnson, J. and J. Maser. 2000. Nehalem River Watershed Assessment. Submitted to Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board.

Recent Research Grants:

Oregon Department of Forestry, 2003 - Evaluation of Trask River Watershed Forestry Practices.

Oregon Department of Forestry, 2002 - Watershed Assessment Data Base

Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board, 2001 - Lower Columbia - Clatskanie River Watershed Assessment.

Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board, 1999 - Nehalem River Watershed Assessment.

Professional Activities, Honors & Awards:

Member, Society of Wetland Scientists

John Eliot Allen Outstanding Teaching Award, Portland State University, 2000 - 2001 and 2004 - 2005