

NASCCAB Application Form

APPLICATION FOR OPEN POSITIONS ON NASCC ADVISORY BOARD Student-at-Large (1), Staff (1), Community (2), Civic (1) Positions for 2010-2011

Applications for open positions on the Native American Student and Community Center Advisory Board at Portland State University are solicited every Spring. The NASCC Advisory Board is comprised of Portland State University students, faculty and staff, members from the metro Native American communities, a Tribal representative and local civic leaders. The Board provides guidance and direction to the Center and strives to maintain involvement of local and regional Native communities in support of Native students in education and in the Center. The Board informs the President on matters related to the operation and success of the Center. Board members are selected to reflect a diversity of perspectives, experiences, communities, and backgrounds. The NASCCAB needs individuals who are committed to the mission of the Center and can provide leadership and expertise in meeting the annual and long-term goals of the NASCC.

Applications are accepted every Spring for openings on the Board. If selected, applicants must be willing to serve 3 years as an active participant on the Board and share information with his/her constituency. Student positions will be for 1 year.
