PROFILE

Thiery is an architect pursuing a master's degree in urban and regional planning as a Fulbright scholar studying at Portland State University.

I strongly believe in the power of sustainable urban development and my goal is to create a global collaborative platform where city designers and stakeholders would have the chance to share their skills and leverage powerful and efficient solutions to craft the next generation of cities and build resilient communities.

WORK EXPERIENCE

ARCHITECT INTERN Feb 2019–Apr 2019
Agence KOFFI & DIABATE (Cote d'Ivoire)

I have worked closely to Guillaume Koffi and Issa Diabate in several development projects in Ivory Coast and Benin.
